

PET WASTE AND STORM WATER DISCHARGE

During rainstorms pet waste is picked up by flowing water and moved through storm inlets into streams and rivers.

They eventually end up in lakes and the ocean and they carry with them pathogens and bacteria that can be harmful to both fish and people.

For more information please visit the Environmental protection Agency site:

<https://blog.epa.gov/tag/pet-waste/>

Please remember to clean up after your animals! Let us all work towards a cleaner environment