Road Improvement Costs and Impact

With more than $9,000,000 in needed road improvements south of Kellogg the City is looking for creative solutions.

The City of Goddard has many roads that are in need of repair. The process of fixing roads is very expensive, and the costs continue to grow each year the maintenance is put off.

The map on the left shows the rehabilitation costs of the roads south of Kellogg. These numbers continue to grow each year as prices increase.

The City's current funding for streets and roads is inadequate to pay for all of these projects. Without proper funding now it will cause the roads to have a shorter life, which is more costly to the taxpayers.

The City's proposed sales tax is intended to help increase funding to infrastructure projects. Investing in roads today is one way to reduce future spending.

Ideas for a new Park

The City is looking for ideas that could be used in a park north of Kellogg.
